STARS AND STRIPES.

This Is American Day at the Great Exposition.

GILMORE'S PROGRAMME ONE TO AROUSE THE GREATEST ENTHUSIASM.

All the Patriots Will Turn Out To-Night and Wave Old Glory—Manager Goals of the Art Department Announces the Receipt of Several New Paintings—Exposition Notes.

Two notable additions to the Exposition Art Gallery were received yesterday and will be hung in good position by this afternoon. They are, respectively, a landscape by Van Marck and a French life study by Diaz, both artists being well and favorably known and some of their work being already included in the Exposition collection. The Van Marck comes from an Eastern gallery and the Diaz from a private collection in San Francisco, and both have been anxiously expected by Art Director Coale for some time past. It is probable also that other paintings will be received to-day, as a great many are still en route, and by Monday evening next there should be quite a lot of new pictures on view for the pleasure of Ex. visitors who appreciate the charms of the Art Gallery as one of the leading Ex. features. A gratifying fact during the week now closing has been the growing interest manifested in this department by the public, the Art Gallery having been visited more and more day by day. This fact shows that it is winning appreciative attention, and as nearly every morning sees a new painting hung with the creditable collection already secured, there is always an additional feature of interest awaiting lovers of art, who naturally turn to that department for a very considerable portion of their Exposition entertainment.

Mr. Coale, in the little Art Gallery annex where his official desk is placed, was busily at work on the art catalogue last night when a Post-Dispatch reporter approached on the quest for art news.

"My grand Turner will arrive about Oct. 1," said Director Coale, complacently, "and it will be a feature of the gallery from that time forward. I can promise also that visitors to this department on Monday next will find many new paintings awaiting their study and also fulfilling their expectation. Practically, the Art Gallery collection will be complete by that time. But this does not mean that there will be no more pictures received during the progress of the Exposition. I think it will be found that one of the pleasures of steady visits to our department will be that every week there will be discovered new paintings that will add to the delights of people who understand the pleasure of keeping in daily touch with our art work. It adds greatly to the charm of a collection when, in addition to increasing familiarity with the works already hung, there is always the likelihood of finding some new picture in the nature of a pleasant surprise to the visitor. This is one of the inducements which the Art Gallery will offer to its patrons this season, and I am already assured that it will win loyal appreciation."

Among the paintings of this year's collection that win special appreciation from the feminine element of Ex. patrons is Zoffoli's "Tambourine Girl," which is a most graceful work and a study particularly rich in "vivid coloring." It possesses all the peculiar charm characteristic of the Spanish school, and its completion of detail is such as to render close and critical examination particularly satisfactory. Its creator, Zoffoli, is a Spanish painter who stands deservedly high in the artistic world.

Last night was "Irish night" and the Exposition was crowded with sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle. The stars and stripes were everywhere, and the patriotic fervor of the Irish people was manifested in every corner. The collection of the evening was the presentation to Col. Gilmore, "from his friends," as the card attached to the picture reads, "of a large floral harp which served, artistically, to recall memories of the Harp that once bore the name of the Emerald Isle." The harp was presented to Col. Gilmore by the Irish people, and it was a most beautiful and valuable gift. The harp was made of silver and was a perfect work of art. It was a most beautiful and valuable gift, and it was a most beautiful and valuable gift.

To-day is "American Day" and "Old Glory" and "Yankee Doodle" have the right of way at the Exposition. The stars and stripes will flutter from every hand, and if the American eagle chances to descend from his high perch, he will find a most enthusiastic welcome. MRS. HARRISON'S CONDITION.

After a Good Night She Seems to Be Improving.

LOON LAKE, N. Y., Sept. 17.—When Dr. Gardner and the members of the President's party walked over from the Harrison cottage to the hotel for breakfast this morning they looked bright and cheerful, and showed by their general appearance that refreshing sleep had come with the passing of danger to the distinguished patient. The President looked much better than he has since the early part of the week. Dr. Gardner was almost justified in the improvement made by Mrs. Harrison during the night. He made an examination, and discovered that there was no tendency toward a reproduction of the watery fluid in the lung cavity. The patient had rested much better than she had for some time, and her sleep was by no means unbroken. This morning she was feeling much stronger, and seemed greatly improved. Dr. Gardner feels almost justified in predicting that immediate danger from the complication caused by reproduction of the watery fluid in the lung cavity has passed, but he will not say anything about the main disease. Mrs. Harrison's condition is still very grave, but with the removal of the dangerous complication which has necessitated three dangerous operations, the physicians will be better able to cope with the nucleus of the trouble.

ON THE MARCH.

Grand Army Posts on Their Way to Wash.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 17.—"Every detail of the preparations for the trip of the Grand Army of the Republic to Washington has been arranged," said Commander Edwin Harlan, of the Department of Illinois. "Custer Post No. 40 will leave at 10 o'clock this morning; Post No. 5 will go by way of the Pennsylvania Line and the Godfrey Well Post goes over the Big Four. The other posts of the department of Illinois will start with leave at 7:30 this evening by way of the Monon and the Chesapeake and Ohio. This train will be run in five sections thirty minutes apart. It is estimated that the Grand Army of the Republic will be in Washington, D. C., by the last night of the month. Col. E. C. Gary was out in the wheat fields after an abundance of the golden grain yesterday with which to decorate the official car and of which the W. R. C. have manufactured emblems representing the state of 'No. 1' to be worn at the encampment by North Dakota's representation. There will be two full coaches of representatives.

Iron Ball Factions.

Members of the Iron Ball will meet to-night at Dr. H. Hall and elect delegates to attend a convention to be held in Baltimore, Md., Sept. 22. The election will decide which of two factions is the stronger. Some of the members are in favor of electing F. D.

Comery, the Iron Ball's chief, while others are in favor of electing an entire set of new officers. At that convention the following ticket was chosen: Samuel P.

Town of Philadelphia, Supreme Chief Justice;

H. L. Jones of Cambridge, Mass., Vice-Chief

Justice; W. P. Landers of Indianapolis, Supreme

Accountant, and Albert F. Kopp, Supreme

Cashier. It is the intention to build a new order on the old. Judge Klein issued an order yesterday directing the officers of Lodge No. 48 of the order to return to the court room on Sept. 22 in court room No. 5, why they have not turned up the property of the order to Brock

Jones, the Receiver of the order.

Fruit Against an Officer.

The case of Henry B. Cullom, receiver of the Wendling Cattle and Land Co., against Arthur Schindelholt and John C. Benck-man, was heard before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday, from the Circuit Court of the District of Colorado. The Wendling Cattle and Land Co., which is set up to be the owner of large land interests in Colorado and New Mexico, claims that Schindeltolt, who was an officer of the company, is the real beneficiary of the judgment obtained by Benckman against the company, and also alleges that Schindelholt sold to Benck-man, without any valuable consideration, a large tract of land in the state of New Mexico against which there was a valid defense, and that a judgment was obtained and a levy made. It is asked that these proceedings be set aside.

They Have No Shoes.

The following communication from Mrs.

Rose Wright Fanning is self-explanatory. Mrs.

Wright has been kindly given a little help. Among a large number of pupils there are always a few who are in need of shoes.

I hear the excuse, "My children cannot attend school they have no shoes." Show us a valuable gift to the poor.

Seventh and Barry streets.

A feeling of dullness, languor,

and depression

is a common complaint. Your liver is not doing its part. That means impure blood, to begin with, and all kinds of ailments in the end. But you can stop them in advance. Doctor

Pierce's Golden

Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood, and cures every organ into healthy action. It prevents and cures all diseases arising from a torpid liver or from impure blood. Dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, eczema, skin and scalp diseases—even consumption (or lung-scars), in its earlier stages, all yield to it.

The makers of the "Discovery" claim for it only what it will do. They guarantee that it will do it. It is safe to take or cure, in any case, they'll return the money. Nothing else claims to purify the blood in this way; which, prove, no matter what dealers may offer, that nothing else can be as "just as good."

THE SEASON FOR THE GREAT COLLEGE GAME

Commences.

CHICAGO WILL PUT A CHAMPION ELEVEN

IN THE FIELD.

Yale Has Refused to Meet the Windy

City Team—Foot-Ball Outlook in St.

Louis—Cracker-Jacks for the New

Madison Track—Gossip From Turf,

Ring and Diamond.

With the approach of Indian summer, the base ball fever dies out and interest in foot ball, the great autumn game, awakens. For a variety of reasons, the principal of which is purely a native spirit of importance, the game has heretofore never taken a very strong hold on home athletes.

Within the past few years, however, the attention paid in the public press to the great intercollegiate matches in the East, and an increase in Eastern college graduates out West, has more or less caused the game to be slowly but surely the fever has crept out beyond the Alleghenies. Chicago has had it severely for the past year or two and this season will be represented by one of the strongest teams in the country. St. Louis has plenty of good material but a lack of interest and energy has prevented anything like a representative team from being put in the field.

Interest in the game locally has so far been confined to the Washington and St. Louis

Universities and the Christian Brothers' College. The Washington University has always had a very strong eleven, having had the advantage of picking from the Manual Training School and University clubs. The boys of the University take great interest in the sport and with a little encouragement from the public would make a very representative aggregation. The Rugby game is new to the other universities, the American game having been more or less unknown up to three years ago, when they adopted the regular university game. Both colleges have very good material, but it is as yet a trifling crude.

The outlook for rugby foot-ball this year is very encouraging. With the three universities and the Pastime Athletic Club enlisted in the common cause of arousing public interest something ought to be accomplished. If the Pastime Club succeed in getting all the good material they have in their ranks into the eleven they ought to have the championship team of the state. But the Washington University boys will have something to say about that. There is plenty of good foot-ball material in both the universities, and the Pastime Athletic Club

University, and the University of Chicago and the University of Chicago. The game between the Washington and the Manual Training School, St. Louis University and Christian Brothers' College is a white heat until after Thanksgiving.

Anything is to be done in the matter it must be done at once, as foot-ball is not a gentle pastime, to be a good player one must be a good player, and in well hardened condition. The gentle sex, who are deterred by conventionalities from winning their rights, in Secretary Sinclair of the East St. Louis

Jockey Club said this morning that contracts for 100 new stalls had been let this week and the contractors would commence work Monday. "We have been notified," said Mr.

Sinclair, "that if Garfield Park does not open Monday noon 100 head of horses will be accommodated at our track. As we are at present no room for them exists, but we will be able to stable them all right before the latter part of next week."

W. F. SMITH RECOMMENDED FOR STARTER.

Mr. Joseph D. Lucas, proprietor of the Goodwood stud, in a letter to Manager Cole Ullman of the Madison track recommends

Mr. W. F. Smith very highly for the position of starter at the new track. Mr. Lucas says that Smith handled the flag at Clifton a few years ago and did splendid work. Smith is at present quartered at Hawthorne with his stable, but Mr. Lucas says that if the Madison Association desires him to do the start-
